

Horses with a Mission

Extraordinary True Stories of Equine Service

Allen and Linda Anderson

Praise for the authors' Angel Horses:

"Keep this exceptional collection of heartwarming stories close to your bedside."

— LINDA TELLINGTON-JONES, founder, Tellington TTouch Method

- Heartwarming and amazing stories that show how horses help humans — enriching, inspiring, and even saving lives
- By the authors of Angel Dogs, Angel Cats, and Angel Horses (136,000 copies sold combined)

In the tradition of the authors' popular Angel titles on cats, dogs, and horses, the inspiring true stories collected here demonstrate acts of courage and heroism, feats of love and compassion, and the powerful link between horses and people. Readers meet equines including Molly, a pony rescued during Hurricane Katrina who received a prosthetic leg and now works at campus for children with cancer and disabilities, and Pegasus, an ornery horse who nurtures a foal with a gravely ill mother and goes on to provide surrogate care to numerous weaker horses. The stories reveal the wonders possible when both humans and horses are encouraged and allowed to follow their best instincts.

ALLEN and LINDA ANDERSON are the founders of the Angel Animals Network, inspirational speakers, and the authors of many books, including Saying Goodbye to Your Angel Animals. They donate a portion of book sales proceeds to animal welfare organizations and live in Minneapolis.
