

WE RECOMMEND

THIS

SHELTER HALF takes place in a small Minnesota town, where the discovery of a dead body prompts courage and compassion from ordinary people. Completed before author Carol Bly's death, this novel is testimony to her belief that writing is an ethical person's best weapon against cruelty, immorality, and indifference.

Come in today for your copy!

SHOP LOCALLY