

“The "Mighty Mississippi" has lured writers and adventurers throughout our history, but Mary Morris earns her place in their top ranks with THE RIVER QUEEN. Her journey downstream, fueled by memories of her father's river tales, is a trip in search of herself in time and place. And quite an expedition it turns out to be! Morris's wry humor, emotional honesty, and skill at telling a great story make this an unforgettable memoir.” -- Chris Livingston, The Book Shelf, Winona, MN

A Midwest Connections Pick!

A beautifully written, and poignant tale of a journey that transforms a life

In the fall of 2005, Mary Morris, acclaimed travel writer and recipient of The Rome Prize in Literature, set off down the Mississippi in a battered old houseboat called the River Queen in an attempt to come to terms with the anxiety caused by her father's death, her daughter moving out, and her encroaching middle-age.

The River Queen is Morris's account of this adventure, in which she lives like a pirate, survives a tornado, learns to pilot her beloved boat and swims in rough currents. Along the way, she reconnects to her past and to her late father's mysterious life, encounters a cast of colorful characters, and recounts snatches of the river's history. In documenting this deeply personal and transformative odyssey, Morris has come away with her best book, a bittersweet travel tale told in the very real voice of a smart, sad, funny, gutsy, and absolutely appealing woman whom you will never forget.
