A supernatural love story with a chilling twist

Shiver

by Maggie Stiefvater

“My big literary influences for Shiver were Crow Lake and The Time Traveler’s Wife, because they tell quiet, bittersweet love stories.”

—Maggie Stiefvater

Dazzlingly talented newcomer, Maggie Stiefvater, brings readers a powerful supernatural love story in Shiver. This chilling, beautifully crafted novel brings two teenagers together against all odds.

Grace has spent years watching the wolves in the woods behind her house. One yellow-eyed wolf—her wolf—watches back. He feels deeply familiar but she doesn’t know why.

Sam has lived two lives. In the cold winter months, he is a wolf, keeping the silent company of his pack and keeping careful watch over the girl he loves. And then, for a short time each year when the weather is warm enough, he is human, never daring to talk to Grace... until now.

For Grace and Sam, love has always been kept at a distance. But now it cannot be denied. Sam must fight to stay human—and Grace must fight to keep him—even if it means taking on the scars of the past, the fragility of the present, and the impossibility of the future.

Maggie Stiefvater is a twenty-seven year old writer, artist, and musician. Her debut novel, Lament: The Faerie Queen’s Deception, was published by Flux in 2008. She lives in rural Virginia with her husband and their two young children. For more information please visit Maggie at www.maggiestiefvater.com.
