

A MIDWEST CONNECTIONS PICK

HOW FAR WOULD YOU GO TO PROTECT A SIBLING—
AND AT WHAT COST TO YOURSELF?

Twins are forced to confront a violent secret from their past in Jenna Blum's first novel since her runaway bestseller, Those Who Save Us.

PRAISE FOR THE STORMCHASERS

"A somber, effective portrait of twins—of the strength they gain and the harm they do to one another..."

—Kirkus Reviews

"Blum renders the stormy backdrop as richly as she does her nuanced characters."

—Publishers Weekly

"The outer landscape of Tornado Alley and the inner terrain of sibling devotion are brought vividly to life in Jenna Blum's new novel. Readers will be captivated not only by the powerful narrative of a sister seeking her long-lost twin but by the fascinating world of storm-chasing."

—Stephanie Kallos, author of Broken for You

"I could not put down Jenna Blum's tornado of a novel about the secrets we keep from even those we love the most. Her heroine, Karena, is a fearless and fascinating companion on one hell of a ride."

—Amanda Eyre Ward, author of How to be Lost

"[A]n emotional rollercoaster of a story, the constant being Jenna's incredible descriptions of the beauty and awe of the most powerful natural force . . . a must-read novel."

—Reed Timmer, star of Discovery Channel's Storm Chasers

JENNA BLUM is also the author of the New York Times bestselling novel Those Who Save Us, which has become a favorite with book clubs across the country. She lives in Boston, Massachusetts, and teaches creative writing.

Dutton, A member of Penguin Group (USA) Inc.

Visit www.JennaBlum.com
for a reader's guide and more!

978-0-525-95155-1 • $25.95 ($32.50 CAN)