

★ A Midwest Connections Pick ★

From the former bookseller and author of the award-winning Please Don't Come Back from the Moon, a charming, disturbing, and funny story of a more-than-slightly deluded young man's quest to find happiness.

“I loved every page of this book. The torch has been passed—Dean Bakopoulos is our next great Midwestern writer.”

—Davy Rothbart

—Jonathan Miles

“My American Unhappiness deserves a hallowed place on the shelf somewhere among Studs Terkel’s Working and Walker Percy’s The Moviegoer.”

—Benjamin Percy

A former bookseller at Canterbury Bookstore in Madison, WI, Dean Bakopoulos is the founding director of the Wisconsin Book Festival, a creative writing professor at Iowa State University, and a visiting professor of English at Grinnell.
