“[Kali White] brings the chilling silence of the 80’s to vivid life in a smart, relentless domestic noir. The writing is taut, the plot is fresh, and the small, broken family at the center of the action completely captured my heart. Prepare to be up late; once I started, I could not stop turning pages.”

Life would be easier if Greer could live inside her head. She’d focus on calculus and not on a simple problem like 32H—her bra size. Hilarious and insightful, Zimmermann’s debut is the story of a girl finding her way out of an oversized sweatshirt and back into the real world.

Award-winning Nnedi Okorafor, acclaimed for her Akata novels, introduces a new and engaging hero in this story about a boy who can access super powers with the help of the magical Ikenga. This is her first novel for middle grade readers set against a richly textured background of contemporary Nigeria.
